

Books

1 Finding good books for teens

a) Finding suitable books for teen is not easy. Websites like goodreads.com offer book titles and reviews to make it easier for teenagers to find an interesting book. Go to the website below and do the following tasks:

- Choose a book that looks interesting.
- Click on the title and read the summary.
- Decide if you would buy the book. If you decide not to buy it, choose another one.
- Write down two reasons why you would choose this book.

<https://www.goodreads.com/shelf/show/teen>

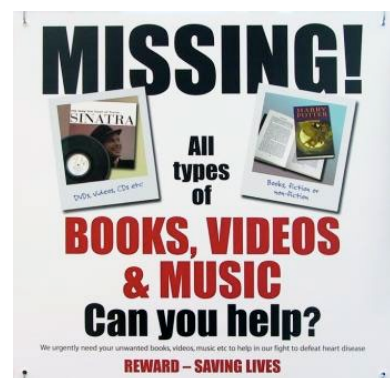

b) Write a little poster with three books for teens which you would like to recommend. Your list should include:

- information on the books (author, title, price, publisher, ...)
- a short summary of the plot
- reasons why people should read them

2 Buying books

a) Go to the website below and find bookstores in Oxford. Look for stores that sell different kinds of books and fill in the grid.

<https://www.dailyinfo.co.uk/oxford/guide/shopping/books>

Second-hand books
Children's books
Books on Latin and Greek literature
Bargain books
Old paper backs
Prints and maps
Donated books
Online

b) Recommend a store to a friend. Tell your friend:

- what he/she can buy there.
- where the bookstore is.
- what the opening hours are (if possible).

Start like this: If you want to buy second-hand books you go to They sell The address is It is open from ... to