Announcer: At the doctor's. Listen and tick true, false or not in the text.

Dr Bradshaw: Hello, Emma. You don't look so good.

How are you feeling today?

Emma: I don't feel so well.

Dr Bradshaw: What's wrong?

Emma: I've got a terrible headache and my throat is sore.

Dr Bradshaw: It sounds like you have got the flu. Where are your parents?

Emma: My mum is looking for a parking space.

Dr Bradshaw: I see. Do you have a fever?

Emma: I'm not sure. I didn't take my temperature.

Dr Bradshaw: Well, let's do that right now. Ah yes, 38.5.

That's quite high. Does anything else hurt?

Emma: I've got a cough as well.

Dr Bradshaw: Alright. Let's have a look into your mouth. Please open your mouth and say "aah".

Emma: Aah!

Dr Bradshaw: Hmm. Everything looks ok here. It looks like you have got the flu.

[Phone rings.]

Dr Bradshaw: Yes?

Secretary: Dr Bradshaw. Emma's mother, Mrs Darlington is here.

Dr Bradshaw: Yes, send her in.

Dr Bradshaw: Hello, Mrs Darlington. We are almost finished.

Mrs Darlington: Hello Dr Bradshaw. What's wrong with my daughter?

Dr Bradshaw: She has got the flu. Look, she's coughing. She's also got a headache and other flu symptoms. Please get her this medicine. She should take the medicine three times a day.

Emma: Do I have to stay at home?

Dr Bradshaw: Yes, you will have to stay home from school for a few days. You should also drink a lot of water or tea.

Emma: Thank you, doctor.

Mrs Darlington: Yes, thank you, Dr Bradshaw.

Dr Bradshaw: Get well soon, Emma. If you are not feeling better by the end of the week, please come and see me again.

Emma: OK, goodbye, Dr Bradshaw.

Dr Bradshaw: Goodbye.

Mrs Darlington: Goodbye, Dr Bradshaw.

Dr Bradshaw: Bye, ma'am.
