

Unit 5 – My working day

Task 09. Fill in the missing words from the box.

floor layer – seven o'clock – weekends – 50 minutes – 45 minutes – lunch break – a quarter to eight – 4.30 a.m. – architectural draughtswoman – joiner – 6 o'clock – ten minutes – drywall builder

Mara is going to be an _____. She lives in Salzburg. Her flat is only _____ away from her office. She gets up at _____, has a healthy breakfast and at _____ she is on her way to the office. Although she is working in the construction business, she is happy to spend her working days in a warm and comfortable office. Her working hours are from eight to five with half an hour's _____. Moreover, there is plenty of time for her friends in the evening.

Paul is an apprentice _____. At the moment, his company is laying flooring in a huge hospital in Vienna. For the time being, they usually start at _____ in the morning. Work has to be finished in three weeks, so they have a lot of pressure. Some of Paul's colleagues also work during _____. Paul is happy that this is not allowed for apprentices. He is looking forward to working in private houses again.

Jim is training to be a _____. He loves his profession since his father has the same job. His working place is at home. This makes it possible to get up _____ before he starts working. He loves the flexibility of his working day and the excellent lunch prepared by his mother.

Kevin wants to become a _____. He lives in a small village about _____ away from Graz, by bus. The building site he is working on at the moment is in the centre of Graz. He has to get up early every day, no later than _____. This is why he is quite tired in the evening. He enjoys the weekends, when he relaxes and goes out with friends.