

Fifteen minutes of fame

1 Reality TV shows 1

Read the short summaries of reality TV shows people could watch in Britain in the past.

I'm a Celebrity ... Get Me Out of Here!

A group of ten minor celebrities live in the Australian jungle and their adventures and daily tests are shown live on TV. Viewers can vote to remove a celebrity and can text their comments during the live show. The person who stays in the jungle longest wins a lot of money. This programme is shown seven days a week for up to three hours.

Relocation, Relocation

This show follows people deciding on a new place to live in the UK. They are filmed during the process of changing towns and houses.

Celebrity Fit Club

A group of overweight celebrities go on a diet together and are filmed every week doing fitness challenges and talking about what they eat.

Fame Academy

A group of wannabe singers are put in a large house in North London for ten weeks and they prepare songs and sing every week. Viewers at home can vote for the best singers until there is a final programme with two finalists. The winner gets a recording contract and wins a year as a pop star.

Changing Rooms

Two couples exchange houses and redecorate a complete room. The programme shows the reaction of each couple when they see their home changed.

Shattered

A group of young people live in a house for a week and must stay awake. Each day there are tests to see how fit they still are. They must leave the house if they fall asleep. Viewers vote and text their comments every day.

Learner Drivers

This show follows people as they learn to drive. People are filmed while they fight with their driving instructors, test the patience of other drivers and pass or fail their driving exam.
